

McGraw to Tell About Liquor Details To-day

Does Not Wish to Pose as Informer, but Directs Counsel to Give Dry Agent Alleged Facts

Has Concussion of Brain

J. C. Slavin, Actor, Injured After Fight in Lambs, Is in Grave Condition

Two representatives of James Shevlin, Supervisor of Prohibition Enforcement, called upon John J. McGraw at his home, 301 West 109th Street, yesterday afternoon and conferred with the baseball manager. They later reported to Mr. Shevlin that McGraw had informed them that through his counsel, William J. Fallon, he would gladly furnish the prohibition officer with the details of his alleged purchases of liquor at the Lambs the morning John C. Slavin, an actor, was injured.

Mr. Fallon said he would call at Mr. Shevlin's office at 11 o'clock to-day for that purpose. McGraw, he said, has no desire to pose as an informer, but has nothing to conceal from the Enforcement Supervisor.

Slavin's Condition Grave

The condition of Slavin is grave, it was said at St. Luke's Hospital last night. He has not been fully conscious for any length of time since he was found in front of McGraw's home eleven days ago suffering from a fractured skull after a fall to the sidewalk.

McGraw sat in a Morris chair with his head swathed in bandages while August Hasenflug, counsel of the Prohibition Department, and Agent Louis Heffner talked with him and Fallon and Eugene F. McGee, his attorneys. McGraw's business associate, Francis X. McQuade, a city magistrate and part owner of the Giants, was also present. The prohibition agents did not question McGraw after Fallon said his client preferred to deal direct with Mr. Shevlin, and he agreed to represent him at Shevlin's office this morning.

The agents were told that X-ray plates of McGraw's head, taken last Saturday, had been developed and returned upon yesterday. By Dr. William F. Bender, physician of the Giants, who has been attending their manager for sundry injuries received in his fight with William H. Boyd, an actor, at the Lambs.

Mr. Bender's report, it was said, stated that the plates indicated McGraw's skull had not been fractured, but showed a slight concussion of the brain which will necessitate McGraw's confinement to his apartment for several days more.

"It has been stated to some of the newspapers that some lawyer called upon Mr. Slavin several days ago in my behalf. I did not authorize anybody to represent me," Mr. Fallon is my lawyer, and no one else has been retained by me."

Fuchs Called on Swann
District Attorney Swann announced several days ago that Emil Fuchs, a former city magistrate, with law offices at 4 Chambers Street, had been arrested and charged with the murder of McGraw.

Mr. Shevlin's interest in questioning McGraw is based upon his statement to Assistant District Attorney Unger that he bought several quarts of whiskey during the course of a party at the Lambs.

Thompson T. Stanton, attorney for Ernest Smith, night clerk of the Lambs, said yesterday that Smith had sold no liquor to McGraw and was not the owner of the quantity of whiskey, wine and champagne confiscated by the police while an attempt was being made to remove it from the club on August 11.

The statement was made after Smith pleaded not guilty to a charge of violating the transportation clause of the Volstead act before Federal Judge Holmes yesterday.

"The liquor taken over by the Police Department was not personal property of Smith," Stanton declared. "At the present time I won't say to whom it really belonged; but I will say that it belonged to a party of one person and was not in the possession of my client to the extent that he was selling it."

Man Who Stabs Woman Shoots Self on Roof
Jersey City Tenement Dweller About To Be Arrested When He Uses Pistol

Fearing capture by two policemen who had chased him to the roof of his home, 466 Monmouth Street, Jersey City, after he had stabbed a woman with a large pocket knife, Daniel Gallo, thirty-three years old, shot himself in the head with a revolver last night. He was taken to the Jersey City Hospital in a dying condition.

Mrs. Francis Bressia, mother of eight children, who lives on the third floor of the same house, is also in the City Hospital, suffering from stab wounds, but her condition is said not to be serious.

So far as the police were able to ascertain, the stabbing was the result of a long-standing feud between Gallo and Bressia. Gallo, the assailant, bore against Mrs. Bressia.

According to the police, Gallo waited on the second floor of the tenement for the woman, who came to the door with a revolver and knife in her hands. Mrs. Bressia returned home. As she passed his door he stabbed her in the breast near the throat.

Her screams brought a tenant, Mrs. Rosa Danese, from her room. As she rushed to the door, Mrs. Bressia rushed in, Gallo stabbing her in the back of the neck as she ran. Mrs. Danese, in that moment, ran to the street and called the police. Patrolmen Weill and Sullivan chased the man to the roof and as they were about to grab him he shot himself.

$50,000 Salvage Awarded Crew of Ship That Picked Up Mulpha Win Rewards

Fifty thousand dollars in awards to the officers and crew of the steamship Westmorland, of the Atlantic Transport Company, were ordered yesterday by Federal Judge Augustus Hand. The Westmorland, on September 30, 1919, picked up the steamship Mulpha, which was found disabled 800 miles off the Irish coast, and towed it to the harbor of Cork.

The awards range from $955.25 for A. B. Lewis, master of the Westmorland, to $75.75 for each of the mess boys on that vessel. The awards were made in an admiralty suit on salvage.

State Prison Head Orders Sing Sing Bulletin Resumed

Superintendent Rattigan Says Suspension of Newspaper Was Without His Knowledge; Warden Lawes Silent; Commission Members See Him

OSSINING, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Charles F. Rattigan, Superintendent of Prisons, at Albany to-day ordered the resumption of the publication of The Sing Sing Bulletin, the prison's official paper, which was suspended this week without explanation. Major Lewis E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing, declared to-night that he had received no official order from Rattigan and that he would say nothing until he had been notified.

In his Albany statement to-day Rattigan said that the Sing Sing Bulletin was suspended without authority from his department. "In my judgment," he said, "the paper should be continued under the directions that I have formerly given. It should be properly edited."

It is known that Rattigan severely criticized many of the articles which appeared in the Bulletin. He also cut the circulation from 5,000 to 1,500.

It is reported from an authoritative source in Ossining that Rattigan's office demanded of Warden Lawes that the Bulletin proofs be submitted to Albany for approval. Warden Lawes, it is understood, took the position that he would stultify himself by submitting proof sheets to Albany and surrendering a right that had been given to all previous wardens of Sing Sing.

John S. Kennedy and Leon Weinstein, president and vice-president of the State Prison Commission, visited Sing Sing to-day and held a two-hours' conference with the warden. At the conclusion of this conference Weinstein intimated that the publication of the Bulletin would be resumed.

"I believe it is essential that Sing Sing have a newspaper," said Weinstein, "and I am confident the public wants it. We are here to get at the cause of the paper's suspension and to try to have it reestablished."

Dean George W. Kirehway, of Columbia University, a former Sing Sing warden, to-day declared that Sing Sing should have its newspaper, and that it should be written and edited by the prisoners.

The Bulletin recently has been in charge of a former newspaper man, and under his practical direction The Bulletin has attained to a high standard of excellence. There has been a great deal of interest in the prison reform advocates and others throughout the country.

and then sent to New York. The alleged offenders will be brought before United States Commissioner Hatcher to a government warehouse. James S. Shevlin, on his return from a conference in Washington with John F. Kramer, National Prohibition Commissioner, said yesterday that only routine matters were discussed. Mr. Shevlin is investigating reports that whiskey was given away at a Broadway theater Tuesday night.

Wife Loses Race to Save Man From Killing Self
He Throws Her Off Trail and Ends Life as She Reaches His Lodging Place

Mrs. Samuel Shmukler, who has been separated from her husband for several months, went to see him in Newark yesterday to ask him to break off his relations with another woman and establish their home again. He refused and thrust her away, crying: "I'm tired of this! I'm going to end it all!"

Their meeting had been in a park, and Mrs. Shmukler saw her husband enter a sporting goods store near by. When he emerged he was carrying a parcel of whose contents Mrs. Shmukler guessed. She tried to reach him, but he eluded her and leaped aboard a trolley car.

Unable to follow him and ignorant of his lodging place, the woman went to the office of the insurance company where he was employed to get his address. Learning that it was the Aberdeen Hotel, 10 Washington Place, she hastened there. A clerk told her Mr. Shmukler had gone up to his room fifteen minutes before.

As they raced up the stairs they heard a shot. When they burst into his room Shmukler was dead. A new revolver lay beside him.

Bellevue Cares Anthrax Case; Is Hospital's Twelfth Success
The nineteenth case of anthrax infection brought to the attention of Bellevue physicians in the last six years was pronounced cured yesterday, and the patient, Ralph Kamensky, forty-four years old, a celluloid novelty manufacturer of Mount Vernon, left the hospital for his home.

Of the cases of anthrax treated at Bellevue there have been seven fatalities and twelve cures.

Jeweler Held Without Bail as Attacker of Cerf

Pincus Says Insurance Man Was Jostled by Crowd and Fell Against a Pillar; Denies Blow Was Struck

Money Believed Missing

Son Said Father Had Large Sum When He Left Hotel; $70 Found at Hospital

Solomon Pincus, of 1678 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, the young jeweler who is accused of striking L. A. Cerf, general agent for the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, causing him to fall in such a way as to fracture his skull, was held without bail yesterday in Tombs police court on a short affidavit charging him with felonious assault. His examination was set for to-day.

Dr. Alfred Savage, in whose care Mr. Cerf is at Broad Street Hospital, said that his patient was suffering from a serious fracture of the skull and would be confined to his bed for at least six weeks. The assault, said from the forehead to the right side of the head, he said. There is danger of the formation of a clot of blood on the brain, which would make an operation necessary.

Friends of the insurance man were puzzled by the report made at the hospital that Mr. Cerf had only $70 in his pocket when he reached there. His son, L. A. Cerf, told the police that his father left the Plaza Hotel with a large sum of money in his possession. Mr. Cerf has been unconscious most of the time since reaching the hospital and has not been able to give a receipt for his injury.

Pincus, his alleged assailant, said that Cerf was jostled by the crowd at the entrance of the Hudson Terminal Building and fell, striking his head against a pillar of the elevated structure. He had the names of many persons, he said, who could testify that no one struck the insurance man.

It was said at the hospital that Mr. Cerf's identity was known from papers in his possession as soon as he was admitted to the institution, and it was only the difficulty of getting in touch with his family which prevented his whereabouts being made known at once. The police had been asked to look for Mr. Cerf some hours before his friends learned that he was at the hospital.

Pincus is employed by Adolph Rosenberg, a jeweler, of 50 Columbia Street, New York. He lives with his widowed mother, Mrs. Rose Pincus, and a sister, Anna. The mother, when seen yesterday morning, said that she had not heard of her son's trouble. She insisted that she never heard him mention the name of Mr. Cerf.

Jersey Police to Ignore Increased Fare Disputes
Safety Director Holds Collection of Extra Penny Is Issue for Civil Courts

Obstreperous passengers who refuse to pay the extra penny of the increased fare for Jersey City to New York on the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad are not to be molested by Jersey City police in the event the employees of the company seek to have them arrested.

This was the order that went out yesterday from the office of Charles E. X. O'Brien, director of public safety in Jersey City.

O'Brien's order not only directs policemen to refuse to make arrests, but in instances where arrests are made by employees of the company the officers in charge of police stations, he says, "must not detain or book the prisoner."

Let the company go to the civil courts to settle controversies with its passengers, says O'Brien.

How the Flowers Love the Sunshine!

All the way along the turnpikes leading away from town there seems to be just now an old fashioned flower festival. There's old Grandmother Hollyhock, that your mother loved and talked about so much, and near by is Grandfather Sunflower, tall and dignified, as if on guard. Gladiolus, phlox, marigolds, bachelor buttons, zinnias, larkspur, coxcomb, foxglove, four o'clocks and rose of Sharon are abundantly spread before you to remind you of your old country home.

Take a day off and go back to the happy days when you and mother made garden together.

It might be the best way to get a new action started in your life.

Be at home when you like in this hospitable mansion of merchandise, where everybody feels at home.
